

Lance James

Development Director, Colorado Springs Pioneers Museum

With more than 20 years in the nonprofit sector, James currently leads the Colorado Springs Pioneers Museum's (CSPM) fundraising, marketing and communications efforts. Prior to CSPM, he served as Harrison School District's Development Director for two years building and managing strong partnerships with the Pikes Peak regional business and nonprofit community, establishing the district's first philanthropic giving program. He also spent 14 years managing the Major League Baseball Players Alumni Association's (MLBPAA) youth programs and created the MLBPAA's first charitable giving program. Living in Colorado Springs since 1996, he enjoys spending time with Jessica, his wife, and Ty and Clare, their two children. James currently serves as a board member for the Association of Fundraising Professionals Southern Colorado, Big Brothers/Big Sisters of the Pikes Peak Region and the Harrison School District Two Foundation.
